

Yong Lim Kim

Yong Lim Kim

Korea

ykim@knu.ac.kr

Executive Council Member 2012

Director of the Clinical Research Center for ESRD in Korea

Dr. Yong-Lim Kim is Professor of Medicine and Nephrology Division at Kyungpook National University Hospital, Daegu, South Korea. As a strong advocate of research and development, he currently serves as Director of the Clinical Research Center for ESRD in Korea. In addition, he is Councilor and Director of the External Affairs and Communication Committee of Korean Society of Nephrology. He has served as Chair of Membership Committee of ISPD since 2006. He received his MD summa cum laude in 1985 from Kyungpook University, Daegu. He was certified by the Korean Board of Nephrology in 1993 and studied in the post doctoral research fellowship at the University of Missouri, Columbia for one year in 1996. He leads the PD unit which holds more than 150 PD patients. General areas of interest include ESRD, renal and peritoneal fibrosis, long-term preservation of peritoneal membrane, solution biocompatibility and changes of metabolomic pattern in kidney disease. He has published over 170 papers of which about 90 have been published in international peer reviewed journals (JASN, KI, AJKD, Am J Pathol, PLoS ONE, NDT, PDI, Mayo Clin Proc, J Infect, Transplantation, etc).